Description

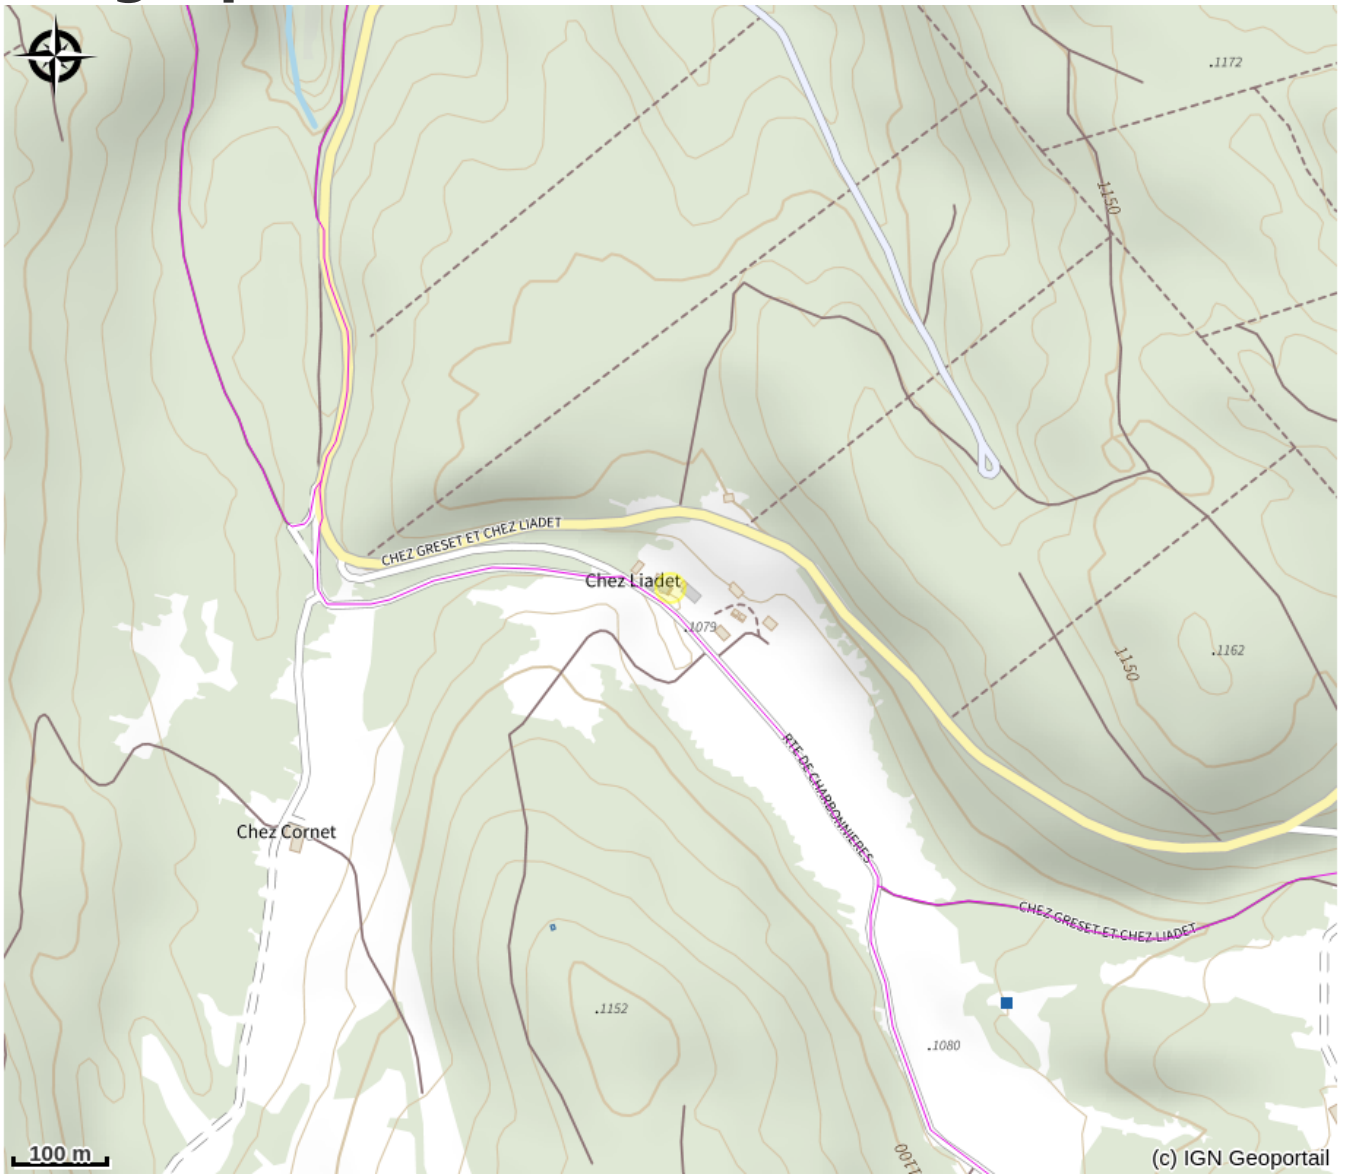

The Chez Liadet domain is located in the middle of nature. It is a true doorway to the mountain pastures in the summer and a departure point for cross-country skiing in the winter that is not to be missed.

Ingrid, Nicolas and their children open their doors to you in a family setting and friendly environment. Five accommodation-only chalets are available for rental. All chalets were built using local wood. They are equipped with a wood pellet burner. You will enjoy the comfort offered by these accommodations and their personalised decor inspired by the mountainous style. If you're a hiker, you may spend the night in the establishment's dormitory.

Thanks to their practice of trail running, hiking, cycling and cross-country skiing, your hosts know the area well and will be able to advise on what to see and do in the area, according to your desires and the weather. On their advice, you could head off to discover the Franco Swiss Jura mountains!

The hostel offers homemade dishes made using local products. In addition to the traditional fondue, raclette and croute au fromage, You can taste the Clocherade (meat cooked on a hot bell with salad and potatoes), homemade tarts and many other dishes...
