

Lamoura lake trail

Station des Rousses Haut-Jura - Lamoura

Sentier du lac de Lamoura (PNRHJ / Nina Verjus)

The trail goes around the lake. A wooden boardwalk allows hikers to cross the most humid areas and the peat bog without damaging these fragile environments.

At the lowest point of the Lamoura lake combe, in a green landscape punctuated by the reddish hue of the surrounding peat bog, shine the waters of the highest natural lake in the Jura mountains.

Advices

Every year, tens of thousands of hikers pass through this trail. For the well-being and safety of all, and to respect the environment, here are the rules to respect:

- Please keep your dog on a lead
- Do not leave the boardwalk
- Cycling is not authorised
- Take your waste with you
- Do not light any fires outside of the equipment provided

The plants and wild flowers in the peat bogs and surrounding fields are beautiful, they may be rare and protected and often wilt quickly. Do not pick them! They will delight the next hikers.
